

The Saks Hat

We Want to Tell You

Something About the Knox Hat.

In the first place, it is the best Hat that can be made. And if you want to be crowned in absolutely the correct fashion—wear a Knox. It doesn't rely upon its name to sell it. Line up all the different makes together for inspection—and the Knox will carry off the palm. That is why we are the agents. We are bound to have the best in every feature of wardrobe. Lots of Hats would pay us a better profit—but they wouldn't do us the credit the Knox does. We know we have satisfied the customer in every one we sell.

The new spring shapes are very becoming. You know an old hat doesn't look right for Easter—and this time try the Knox. Won't cost a penny more than any good hat.

What Knox is to Hats Hanan is to Shoes. We're Hanan's sole agents here also.

ORIOLES WIN AGAIN.

THEY TAKE THEIR THIRD VICTORY FROM RICHMOND LADS.

BLUEBIRDS USE THEIR STICKS.

They Do as Much Heavy Batting as Do the Visitors, But the Game is Thrown Away on Errors—Montreal Here To-Day.

The Baltimore Orioles concluded their series of games in this city yesterday afternoon, and taking another game from the Bluebirds, made a record of three straight. It was easy work for the Baltimoreans to defeat the Richmond players, but it was demonstrated by the three games that it will be far from an easy task for the Atlantic League lads to vanquish Jake Wells's boys.

The Bluebirds, notwithstanding they were up against the finest team of ball-players in the world, played Baltimore to a finish, and did some exceedingly clever work. They batted the Orioles pitchers in a vigorous manner, and yesterday did as much stick work as did the visitors. They batted the ball all over the field, and made numerous long drives, which, with a minor league outfield, would have yielded hits. The Baltimore gardeners, though, went into the air after the flies and converted several into put-outs.

CHESTER VS. HUGHES.

Chester was in the box for Richmond and Hughes did the twirling for Baltimore. Chester appears to be in first-class condition, and he held the heavy-hitting Baltimore bats to six hits, and not one of those yielded over one base. Hughes did no better than this, and until the sixth inning, when the local infield went wrong, the game was as pretty a contest as could have been desired.

In the second inning Baltimore made one run, three safe hits of Chester doing the trick. In the third Richmond came back at her opponent, and by virtue of some clever base running, assisted by some wild work on the part of Hughes, tied the score. Thus it remained until the sixth inning, when Leachy, Dutton, and Klop went wrong, and the three errors made by these worthies gave Baltimore two runs, which put her safely ahead of the game.

Nothing daunted, the Bluebirds went at the big leaguers in the seventh, and Chester, leading off with a hit, was advanced to second by a passed ball, and when Klop drove a liner out into left field the doughty little pitcher trotted home.

WENT FURTHER AHEAD.

This put the Bluebirds within reaching distance of at least a tie, but when Baltimore took her inning the lads from the Monumental City began to use their bats, and when Kain fumbled a fly out in right field two more Orioles flapped their wings over the rubber, and the score was advanced beyond the reach of the locals.

A slight drizzling rain had been falling throughout the game, and during the latter part of the seventh inning a heavy shower came up, and Pop Tate, realizing that to continue the game longer would be only to increase Baltimore's lead, decided to call it, and thus did he put an end to the misery.

FIGHT IN FUNERAL PROCESSION.

One Negro Killed, and Two Others

Badly Wounded—Several Arrests.

A funeral is not a very appropriate place at which to engage in a fight, yet such was just what a dozen or more negroes did Sunday afternoon. As a result of the fracas in the funeral procession, one man was killed, two others were badly wounded, and several were arrested.

COMING FROM A FUNERAL.

The affair occurred upon the return of the Lincoln Club from the funeral of the colored man, on First street. The organization had "turned out" to bury a deceased member, and it was after this mission had been performed, and the crowd started back to the city, that the difficulty occurred, which cost the life of one man and the disfigurement of two others.

ALIEN IS FATALLY STABBED.

At Third and Leigh streets the hostilities were renewed, and this time living Allen, it is stated, jabbed a knife in David Finch's left eye and cut the latter out. The bloody affair was finished when Broad street was reached. Here Allen was arrested, and his throat savagely slashed. The man was carried to a neighboring drugstore and the ambulance called, while the crowd of negroes who had been most active in the fracas dispersed. Allen was taken to the almshouse, and everything possible done for him in the way of medical attention, but he died in a short time. His body was carried to his late home, No. 165 North Seventeenth street. Finch was taken to the almshouse, where he is now, and Robinson was sent home.

SEVERAL ARRESTS ARE MADE.

Officers Wren, Foster, Griffin, and Sowell started out to hunt up the negroes who had engaged in the fight, and after considerable time was expended in the Second Police Station: William Brown, Ernest Mimms, Joe Carter, William Henderson, William Patterson, William Price, and William Brown. Ernest Mimms, who is supposed to have cut Allen, causing the latter's death, was arrested in a house in Pink alley by Officers Foster and Sowell. The officers, when they entered the room in which they expected to find the darky, discovered that it appeared to be untenanted. Upon investigation, however, they found Mimms hiding in a wardrobe, from which he was taken and placed in a cage.

THE JUNK-DEALERS' TEST CASE.

It Will Be Heard of Wednesday.

Clarence Cosby the Victim.

The test case instituted by the junk dealers of the city to test the constitutionality of the law passed by the Legislature to compel them to make daily reports to the Chief of Police and to hold their purchases five days before disposing of them, will come to an issue next Wednesday.

The Fisher-Cox Wedding.

The New York Herald, of Sunday, in its society letter, says: "A ceremony of unusual interest will be the wedding on Easter Tuesday afternoon of Miss Ada D. Cox, daughter of Mr. Jennings S. Cox, to Mr. Robert C. Fisher, which will take place at 3 o'clock in Holy Trinity church. The bride, Mr. Fisher, will officiate, assisted by the Rev. Henry Lubek, rector of Zion and St. Timothy's Protestant Episcopal church. An elaborate choral service will be rendered by the choir boys of St. John's chapel, under the direction of Mr. Le Jones, the organist."
